

Characteristics of Juche Idea by Souleymane BAH Head of the Study of the JUCHE idea of the zone OUAKAM, SENEGAL

The Juche idea have the characteristic, in a nutshell, that they are philosophical ideas that focus on man. General Kim Jong Il said; "The Juche ideas are new philosophical ideas that focus on people. That Juche's ideas are philosophical ideas with an emphasis on man means that they offer new fundamental human-oriented philosophical problem and define a vision, a conception and a position with regard to the world in putting man at its center. The ideas of Juche have recently proposed as a fundamental problem of philosophy the correlation between the universe and man as well as the position and the role which belong to man in the world and specify the philosophical principle according to which man is master of everything and decides everything. The question of what position man occupies and what role he plays in the world is not a simple purely human problem, but a problem of the conception of the world posed by placing man at the center of philosophical consideration. This is why the principles which have answered this question are considered both as those of the human-centered worldview and as a principle of shaping the destiny of man. The ideas of Juche focus on the man to give the Juche vision of the world according to which the world is dominated and modified by the man, it develops thanks to its action and its active role, in the sense of the services that it gives back to man and to the measure of his development, and, on the basis of this vision, they elucidate a new point of view and position according to which the world must be considered from the interests of man and prioritize his action. These are the fundamental characteristics of the ideas of Juche which emphasize man to newly propose the fundamental problem of philosophy and to specify a vision, a conception and a position with regard to the world by giving primacy to man. , which clearly differ from other antecedent philosophical thoughts.

2020. 1.17